

WORKIN' HARD in MIDGARD

It is now peacetime, which means... time to get strong for the next battle! I've set up a 5 by 5 grid of workout tasks in my yard. On Mani's day (Monday) through Frigg's day (Friday), I will take a differently-shaped* path. I will start and end with a hard task (the large dots) and will do only easy tasks (the small dots) in between. I will do each task exactly once during my 5-day workout week and I will do the same number of tasks each day. I will only move orthogonally, not diagonally. I will do each task that I encounter, i.e. if I arrive at a dot then I will do that task.

*Rotations of a shape do not count as being differently-shaped.

If I keep up with my workout routine week after week, maybe one day I will be as strong as if I were _____ .
