

Bar Hopping

October 2010

What a night! Walking around town scoping out bars to host Puzzled Pint is hard work! There were so many places to STOP. There is one bar in particular that stands out in my mind, but just wasn't quite right. Before we left – which was pretty late in the evening, we decided to put it in the “maybe” category! Can you follow the directions to figure out which bar it is?
