

Music Arranging

Congratulations! You are now a Music Arranger! Music arrangers take musical pieces and ideas of others and put them together in different ways. Sometimes you don't end up always using all of the musical ideas and pieces from the original, but you do want to make sure you match up important notes when you are making your new arrangements.

(This puzzle does not require any specialized music knowledge or note reading, however the answer is a piece of music terminology.)