

Helping Hands

"She chose dooooooown!"

The Helping Hands are all speaking at once! It's hard for Sarah to tell which face is saying what. Once she figures it out, she notices something strange about their index fingers that leads her to an instruction that will be useful later in her quest.

*Everyone be quiet! I can't tell what she's trying to say!
The so-called Goblin King is looking for you.*

*She's ready to vanquish Jareth and his Labyrinth.
This way! Come this way!*

*I'm a little tiny bit concerned about this young lady's safety. Up or down, doesn't matter to me!
I think she's doing just fine. She'll have a devil of a time without help from that big guy with horns.*
