

Puzzled July Pint 2024

LET'S GET OUTTA HERE

My goodness – have you looked at the news lately!? The headlines are so mixed up! And we all know that's just to grab our attention, and then the story ends up having very little to do with headline anyway.

Along those lines, take the four examples below. Unbelievable! They make us feel like we just want to hop in our car and drive, drive, drive – just to get away from all the craziness for a while...

“SIN ANTIDOTES” story about how people are doing bad and hateful things instead of working to advance themselves and get to the places they are ultimately intended to reach.

“SOD OF FAT” story about how some roadside eateries are preparing quick, convenient meals from layers of grass grown in oily grease.

“TENSE TRAIT” story describing scientific evidence that road rage may be a genetically linked characteristic – something to keep in mind the next time someone cuts you off while you are driving along a major highway such as I-95.

“EH, GET ROT” story about how tech giants sell us on screen time, leading to the decay of interpersonal relationships. Thus friends & family drift apart instead of remaining in close proximity.
